

Hello,

The New Mexico Health Care Authority invites you to the 47th Annual New Mexico Conference on Aging, happening September 23–25 at the Glorieta Conference Center.

This conference brings together older adults, caregivers, and professionals from across the state. It's a chance to connect, learn, and celebrate aging well in New Mexico.

What you can expect:

- Workshops and speakers with helpful information
- Cultural events and entertainment
- Resources and tools to support healthy living
- Opportunities to meet and connect with others
- Activities that honor the wisdom and strength of our communities

Health Care Authority staff will be on-site September 23-24 to assist with benefits applications, including SNAP food benefits, LIHEAP utility assistance and Medicaid health coverage. Please bring:

- Proof of identity (driver's license, state ID, or tribal ID)
- Social Security number (if you have one)
- Proof of income (pay stubs, Social Security award letter, or other documents)
- Proof of address (utility bill, lease, or mail with your name and address)
- Insurance cards, if you have them

How to register (for free!)

- Visit AginginNM.org
- Use the code Dual25 to register for free.
- You must put this code into the section on the payment page in order to receive free registration. Please double check that you have entered the code before you check out because we are unable to process refunds after you have completed checkout. If the code is entered correctly, the fee should be $0 and there will be no need to enter credit card information.

Free shuttle transportation will be provided to and from Santa Fe.

We look forward to seeing you there.

Sincerely,
New Mexico Health Care Authority
